Andrew A. Filipour

ALEXANDRIA, VA

---

Andrew Filipour focuses his practice on litigation and insurance coverage matters, representing insurers in a variety of complex disputes. With six years of legal experience, Andrew brings a detail-oriented and creative approach to problem-solving, helping clients navigate coverage questions and litigation challenges with practical, strategic counsel.

Prior to joining the firm, Andrew practiced with several law firms and also served with the State of Georgia, gaining experience in litigation and insurance coverage matters across both the public and private sectors. His diverse background has provided him with a broad perspective on dispute resolution and risk assessment, allowing him to develop effective strategies tailored to his clients' needs.

Outside of work, Andrew is a fantasy football enthusiast.
