MGC Strengthens Columbia Practice with Attorneys Katie Holley, Josh Lipsitz, Monica Main, William Raffone, Rachel Ratajczak, Katelyn Riley, Amanda Van Ert and Gabrielle Williams

November 11, 2026

Media Contact
Erica Gianetti
Marketing & Communications Supervisor
erica.gianetti@mgclaw.com

COLUMBIA, SC – Law firm McAngus Goudelock & Courie (MGC) strengthens Columbia practice with attorneys Katie Holley, Josh Lipsitz, Monica Main, William Raffone, Rachel Ratajczak, Katelyn Riley, Amanda Van Ert and Gabrielle Williams

Katie Holley

Holley focuses her practice on workers' compensation matters, representing employers and insurance carriers. Prior to joining MGC, she gained experience in estate planning and probate. Holley also served as a law clerk with the South Carolina Office of the Attorney General, where she worked on vulnerable adult and Medicaid provider fraud matters.

Holley earned her Juris Doctor from University of Kentucky J. David Rosenberg College of Law and Bachelor of Science from Clemson University, graduating with Honors.

Josh Lipsitz

Lipsitz focuses his practice on workers' compensation matters, representing employers and their insurance carriers. He approaches each matter with the goal of resolving his clients' issues as efficiently and effectively as possible.

Lipsitz earned his Juris Doctor from University of South Carolina and Bachelor of Arts from University of Georgia, obtaining a certificate in Legal Studies.

Monica Main

Main focuses her practice on litigation matters, including motor vehicle accidents, premises liability, construction litigation, trucking and transportation, products liability and SIU/arson and fraud matters. She represents insurance companies and businesses, bringing a practical and client-focused approach to resolving complex disputes.

Main earned her Juris Doctor from University of South Carolina Joseph F. Rice School of Law and Bachelor of Arts from Allegheny College.

William Raffone

Raffone focuses his practice on litigation, including trucking and transportation and bad faith matters. He approaches each case with a strong work ethic and commitment to delivering thoughtful, dependable service to his clients.

McAngus Goudelock & Courie is a metrics-driven law built specifically to serve the insurance industry, their insureds and self-insureds. Past success does not indicate the likelihood of success in any future legal representation.

© McAngus Goudelock & Courie LLC 2026

Raffone earned his Juris Doctor from University of South Carolina Joseph F. Rice School of Law and Bachelor of Arts from University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Rachel Ratajczak

Ratajczak focuses her practice on litigation matters, including motor vehicle litigation and construction litigation. She represents businesses, insureds and insurance companies, taking a client-centered approach that emphasizes understanding each client's goals, preferences and desired path to resolution.

Ratajczak earned her Juris Doctor from Mercer University Walter F. George School of Law, graduating magna cum laude and Bachelor of Arts from Mercer University, graduating summa cum laude.

Katelyn Riley

Riley focuses her practice on litigation, including construction litigation and premises liability matters, representing insureds and insurance carriers. She emphasizes clear and consistent communication, helping clients navigate complex matters with confidence while keeping their goals at the forefront.

Riley earned her Juris Doctor from Charleston School of Law, graduating cum laude and Bachelor of Arts from St. Norbert College, graduating summa cum laude.

Amanda Van Ert

Van Ert focuses her practice on litigation matters, including motor vehicle litigation, products liability and premises liability. She represents civil clients, insurance carriers and their insureds, bringing a practical and straightforward approach to client service.

Van Ert earned her Juris Doctor from University of South Carolina School of Law and Bachelor of Science from University of Wisconsin - Stout, graduating magna cum laude.

Gabrielle Williams

Williams focuses her practice on litigation, motor vehicle litigation, premises liability, trucking and transportation and products liability matters. She represents clients in a variety of civil disputes and is committed to providing efficient, detail-oriented representation while maintaining clear communication and practical solutions throughout the life of a case.

Williams earned her Juris Doctor from University of South Carolina School of Law and Bachelor of Arts from College of Charleston, graduating cum laude. She is also a member of the South Carolina Black Lawyers Association.

McAngus Goudelock & Courie is a metrics-driven law built specifically to serve the insurance industry, their insureds and self-insureds. Past success does not indicate the likelihood of success in any future legal representation.

© McAngus Goudelock & Courie LLC 2026