Monica Main

COLUMBIA, SC

Monica Main focuses her practice on litigation matters, including motor vehicle accidents, premises liability, construction litigation, trucking and transportation, products liability and SIU/arson and fraud matters. She represents insurance companies and businesses, bringing a practical and client-focused approach to resolving complex disputes. Monica believes that keeping clients informed throughout every stage of the legal process is essential to achieving successful outcomes.

Prior to joining the firm, Monica served as an Assistant Solicitor with the Fourteenth Circuit Solicitor's Office, where she tried numerous criminal cases in Beaufort County General Sessions Court. She also served as a Deputy County Attorney and gained experience with an insurance defense firm, giving her a well-rounded background in litigation. Earlier in her career, Monica clerked for the Honorable Robert Bonds, gaining valuable insight into judicial decision-making and trial procedure.

Outside of work, Monica enjoys going to the beach, cooking and working out.
