TN – Law firm McAngus Goudelock & Courie (MGC) is pleased to announce the inclusion of two attorneys in the 2026 Mid-South Super Lawyers list, with both being recognized as "Rising Stars."

- Emily Bragg Faulkner (Memphis, TN): 2026 Mid-South Super Lawyers "Rising Star" – Workers' Compensation
- Miles Martindale (Nashville, TN): 2026 Mid-South Super Lawyers "Rising Star" – Business Litigation

Emily Bragg Faulkner's practice focuses on litigation and workers' compensation matters. She earned a Juris Doctor from the University of Memphis Cecil C. Humphrey's School of Law, where she graduated cum laude, and earned a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Tennessee – Knoxville, where she graduated cum laude.

Miles Martindale's practice focuses on various litigation matters as well as administration probate, litigation probate, wills and estates as well as non-compete law. He earned his Juris Doctor from Belmont University College of Law and a Bachelor of Science from Middle Tennessee State University.

Super Lawyers, a Thomson Reuters business, is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The annual selections are made using a patented multiphase process that includes a statewide survey of lawyers, an independent research evaluation of candidates and peer reviews by practice area. The result is a credible, comprehensive and diverse listing of exceptional attorneys.

McAngus Goudelock & Courie is a metrics-driven law built specifically to serve the insurance industry, their insureds and self-insureds. Past success does not indicate the likelihood of success in any future legal representation.
